Baseball for Benefit of Improvement Society.

On Wednesday afternoon, May 22nd, at three o'clock on the Fair Grounds, will be played a game of baseball between the fat men and thin men of Middlebury. Practice has begun and there are promises of a big fight. The proceeds are to go to the ladies of the Middlebury Improvement society for the extension of their good work about the village. Everyone should attend and rout for their side and help the gentleman who have taken such a splendid interest.

Murdock and Woods, in the points for the leans, are working hard and may be seen until late at night in the rear of the Battell block putting in real practice. Burns and Higgins, for the fats, are also showing up good, and judging from the opinions of the baseball fans of this village a very good and close game may be looked for. Ira M. Taylor, the popular restaurateur, will be in attendance as the mascot. Everybody come and help the cause along. The line-up follows:

Fats—Fay Warren, 3d b; John Stiles, c f; Charles Cheney, s s; George Dougherty, 1 b; Tommy Burns, c; Edward Higgins, p; George Hayward, r f; Noble Sanford, 1 f; John Slaters, 2d b.
